COMPLEX SITUATION IN IRELAND.

The latest development is a complex situation in Ireland. There is a threatened rupture of the working relations between the Northern and Southern Governments, the latter refused to co-operate with Ulster on the Railway Commission, which is about to meet to settle the labour troubles; declaring that the situation in Belfast, and Sir James Craig's refusal to release certain prisoners, is tantamount to a breach of the agreement which was signed in London a month ago. The Free-State Commission will therefore act alone.

Sir James Craig in replying, contends that he has striven to fulfil the agreement with Mr. Collins, and points out the continuation of raids across the Ulster border and the boycott of Ulster goods. Mr. Griffith addressing the re-assembled Dail Eireann, said that whatever measures were necessary, would be taken to secure that the Executive of Ireland would freely vote on the Treaty.

The Minister of defence denounced the mutineers. He said 331 Post Offices had been raided and many prominent firms were temporarily closing their offices.

A remarkable manifesto has been unanimously issued by the Catholic Bishops assembled at Maynooth, which vigorously announces the mutineers and says they are making a shameful war on their own country. They are partisans instead of patriots and the whole system of military despotism is detestable and unbearable to the people, who regard it with horror and disgust.

OUR HARBOUR SCHEME.

Big improvements of our harbour are contemplated. It is recognized that we must cater for the accommodation of more and bigger ships, if we are to continue prospering as a port. To this end we had some time ago a very eminent harbour engineer, Mr. Maurice Fitzmaurice, giving our harbour the "once over." That must be considerably over a year ago, and now the people are beginning to ask why his report is not published. There is a very good reason for its non-publication. It has not yet been made. That was all the eminent engineer could give at the time of his visit, the "once over," the superficial survey. He told the Government what he would require, and this data they have been collecting and compiling for him. The P.W.D. is our busiest department. It could not do to all the time of all its staff to this work. But (we understand) good progress has been and is being made. Mr. Maurice Fitzmaurice will in due course have all the data, the soundings and contours and plans that he must study before making any recommendations. After that his report and recommendations will have to be considered by our Government. Then—and not till then—will the curiosity of the public be satisfied and they can start criticizing and proposing amendments. But it is only a natural and healthy curiosity that compels us to advise patience. We confess to feeling quite startled on reading in yesterday's Morning Post an editorial note which included the following passage:

"It is just as well to remind those in authority that there are a good many interested parties who would like to see the preliminary details published as early as possible. Some there are, of course, who would like a preliminary hint, for dollar grabbing purposes; possibly one or two will be so fortunate. It is for the Government to see that as far as possible, in the matter of information, all investors are treated alike."

Is it possible that we have in our midst "investors" who would be willing to take advantage of "preliminary" hints of what may befall in such a public undertaking? How wicked a suspicion that is. Even Brutus is an honourable man. If there is anything in the idea that the big moneyed members of the community are agog to "invest" on the strength of early news of Government plans, then it is certainly not for the Government to see that investors are "treated alike." It should see that they are not treated at all. Perhaps that is what our contemporary intended. Just a matter of wording, like. Anyway, it leaves a most uncomfortable feeling. We can trust the officials responsible. They are members of a class with very honourable traditions. Are there any members of the Councils whose interests are so divided between private enterprise and public service as to subject them to strong temptation? If so, how insure that valuable information does not leak? It is a common rumour. All the public can do is to keep a sharp watch on what the big investors do, and the Government could do that too. In the meanwhile, let us assume all men honest until they are proved otherwise. It is very unkind psychology, but it is the only way to keep the public in the dark.

gentlemanly thing to do. Our local rich men offer one very good guarantee which in fairness should not be overlooked. They are so very rich that they have now lost the desire to gain more money. Their minds are set entirely on doing good. Only a little while ago we heard one of them say so. So that's that.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Crown Land and Survey Office wants two competent tracers.

An advertisement relating to the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce Chinese Language School appears in this issue.

The Bishop of Victoria left yesterday for Shanghai to attend the National Christian Conference. He hopes to return to Hongkong about May, 25.

Canton's women textile workers, numbering about a thousand, are withdrawing from the Textile Workers Guild and are organizing a union of their own.

The opening day of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club will take place on Saturday afternoon, April 29, at 3.30 p.m. Members and friends are cordially invited.

A small girl, forgotten in the scramble to escape from the flames, lost her life in a fire which destroyed a house near the Canton station of the Kowloon Railway.

Mr. Kuo Tai-chi, a returned student from America, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Kuo Ying-fan as Kwangtung Provincial Commissioner of Civil Affairs.

Yesterday's return of notifiable disease comprised eight cases of plague (five fatal), one of small-pox (fatal) and one of purpural fever, all Chinese; also four of enteric fever, two Japanese, one British and the other Chinese.

The Wanchai laundrymen have succeeded in obtaining a wage increase of $3 per month for the regular washermen while casuals will in future receive 90 cents a day. The increase in the case of the regular employees amounts to 30 per cent.

Suffering from injuries to the face received through being knocked down by motor car No. 125 on Pokfulam Road yesterday afternoon, a 12 year old Chinese boy was admitted to the Government Civil Hospital for treatment. His injuries are not serious.

A strike of carpenters began last Saturday and is still on. Yesterday the S.C.A. met representatives of the men and suggested that they appoint delegates from another guild to arbitrate for them with the employers. The carpenters turned this proposal down pointing out that their own delegates were quite capable of meeting the employers.

Playing on the bridge leading from the house to the kitchen on the second floor of No. 107, Yuchow Street, yesterday afternoon, a 3-year old Chinese boy fell a distance of some 20 feet into the yard below, receiving severe injuries to his head. He was picked up unconscious and removed to the Kwong Wah Hospital where he now lies in a critical condition.

A successful jumble sale was held yesterday at Union Church in aid of the National Orphan Homes of Scotland. A total of $300 was raised and this was regarded as highly satisfactory. The organizers were: Mrs. Macdonald (President), Mrs. Mackenzie (hon. secretary and treasurer), Mrs. Hickling, O.B.E., Mrs. Dovey, Mrs. Constand, Mrs. J. McCubbin, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. P. D. Wilson, Mrs. Milne, Mrs. James Henderson, Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Sampson, and Gerard. The Rev. J. Kirk Macdonald was not able to be present owing to a chill.

CANTON RICE PRICES.

The price of rice in Canton city has increased very greatly. The lowest class of rice is quoted at 12 or 11 cattie per dollar while the better quality is sold for 10 cattie. Rice dealers blame the shortage of supplies from Annam. They advise that the price is expected to return to normal soon, as large quantities of rice are now on the way to Canton from the different western districts of the province.

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF.

If you want a clear head and a good digestion you must not let your bowels become clogged with poisonous waste from the body, as is always the case when you become constipated. Proper food, an abundance of water and plenty of outdoor exercise should keep your bowels regular. When this fails you should take Chamberlain's Tablets. They cause a gentle movement of the bowels and clear the system of waste.

STARVING STUDENTS.

HELPED BY COMRADES.

MRS. BIDGRAIN'S LECTURE.

How the students of the world came to the help of those belonging to former enemy countries, who were hit hard by the war was related to a small audience of ladies at the Helena May Institute this morning by Mademoiselle Suzanne Bidgrain, who is the travelling secretary of the World Students' Christian Federation. Mademoiselle Bidgrain is a native of Normandy and, after studying in France and Germany, she took her M. A. degree at Glasgow University. She is a fluent speaker and for half an hour or so this morning had the attention of her audience fixed firmly upon post-war problems. Mrs. J. H. Kemp introduced her and apologised for the smallness of the audience.

Explaining how the World Federation came to be formed Mademoiselle said it was started 27 years ago by five different nations—Great Britain, Canada, the United States, the Scandinavian countries and Germany—who had organised national unions of Christian students. At a general conference held in Sweden it was decided to gather all of these organisations together into one world movement and since then the work of the movement had grown so that now it counted 200,000 members.

At the recent world conference in Peking there were delegates from 31 different nations representing all branches of the Christian church. They were drawn from all the continents and all the races known to mankind, so that this work really had become truly world-wide. She thought that where the main interest came in was that each nation developed its own movement along the lines which best expressed the genius of its people. This gave a special quality to the unity of the work. They had not uniformity, but unity and this was possible because of their great common interest in their allegiance to Jesus Christ. This was indeed, as they said in France, the raison d'être of the Federation. In Russia, said Mademoiselle Bidgrain, the Christian Student movement was the only student's movement that had not collapsed during the revolution. In point of fact it had even increased its membership and grown stronger than it was before.

The greater part of Mademoiselle's address was devoted to an outline of what had been accomplished in connection with the student relief movement. Her predecessor, she said, had gone to Austria after the war with the object of getting into touch again with their national branch there and she found that students were dying of starvation and that a big proportion of them were tubercular. There were cases where two or three men only had one suit and one pair of shoes between them and they took it in turns to wear them to lectures. When it was not their turn they had to remain at home because they had nothing to put on. The majority were only getting one meal a day. When a meeting of various student bodies was held to discuss ways and means of alleviating these pitiful conditions the Austrian students were scarcely able to believe that the students of the rest of the world, many belonging to nations who fought against them, were willing to help them. They fell to discussing how they could ever show their gratitude for such assistance and it was difficult to get them to talk about anything else.

Under the relief scheme, proceeded Mademoiselle Bidgrain, eleven countries had been helped and 32 countries had contributed. She was glad to be able to tell them that the students of Great Britain had done a tremendous amount. A sum of £33,000 had been raised in the British universities and many British students had entered into the scheme with great enthusiasm. Help had been given in the shape of food, clothing and books and it was very difficult to express in words the amount of encouragement and religious inspiration that had accompanied it. In several of the distressed countries they had started self-help schemes which enabled students to do something towards supporting themselves. This was very necessary in order to encourage students to go ahead and get their degrees, a specially medical students, who were badly needed. In some parts of central Europe like Lithuania and Czechoslovakia, according to Mademoiselle Bidgrain there is only one medical man amongst 150,000 people. With typhus rampant it was very essential, she pointed out, that something should be done to alter this.

Some of the assisted countries are now in a much better condition than they were and the plan is, Mademoiselle Bidgrain indicated, to stop them all on to try and help the movement in every way they could.

LAUNCH MEN'S WAGES.

EUROPEAN OWNERS' POSITION.

On April 24 the Coxswains and Engineers' Association addressed a circular to launch owners' seeking the following wages increases—50 per cent. for men drawing $10 a month, making $15; 40 per cent. for men drawing under $20, making $28; 25 per cent. for men drawing under $30, making $37.50; 20 per cent. for men drawing under $40, making $48; and 15 per cent. for men drawing $41 (and upwards) making $47.15.

They claimed that "owing to the high cost of living, they cannot support their families with their present incomes." They also mentioned that a petition had been sent to the Secretary for Chinese Affairs on March 28 requesting him to bring the matter of wages before the shipowners concerned.

Yesterday delegates from Chinese and Hongkong General Chambers of Commerce held a meeting and on behalf of the launch owners offered to settle the question on the basis of a minimum wage of $25 for coxswains, $24 for engineers, and $14 for deckhands and greemen.

The foreign launch owners, most of whom it is said have not been approached by their men because present wages in many cases exceeded the new rates sought, have left the matter entirely in the hands of the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce's delegates, Mr. G. T. Young, of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, and Mr. H. P. White, of Messrs. Douglas and Co., to effect an equitable settlement.

Launch men employed by Europeans, would be foolish, it is asserted in some quarters, to press the Association's percentage demands, since if these are secured they may find themselves worse off than they would be under the settlement offered by the owners which represents minimum wages.

as "impossible" however, and thinks that there the world will have still to go on. This winter they had begun to help Russia and the British students had specially earmarked some of their contributions for this purpose.

The great thing about this relief work, Mademoiselle Bidgrain said, was that they had help to prevent these students from despairing of the world and of God. It had helped to bring the whole world together in a very real sense and to show people that when they belonged to the same God they belonged to one another. At the end of the lecture Mrs. Kemp thanked Mademoiselle Bidgrain on behalf of the audience for her inspiring lecture which would, she felt, urge them all on to try and help the movement in every way they could.

SMUGGLING TOBACCO.

TRADING JUNK'S CLUMSY ATTEMPT FAILS.

The master of a trading junk and his two folk were charged before Magistrate Lindell this morning with the unlawful possession of 44,350 cigarettes of various brands and 28 lbs. of Chinese tobacco.

The master said that they arrived at Apichau yesterday from Sainburg where they had loaded a cargo of fruit and sweet potatoes. He did not know how the tobacco came to be among the cargo. Part of the cargo was consigned to the Tai Sang fruit dealers opposite the Central Market and had already been taken delivery of. The other six baskets of fruit in which the tobacco was found by the revenue officer, were shipped by a woman who had given instructions for them to be taken to Aberdeen where she would come on board to take delivery. The revenue officer came on board before her and found the tobacco. The master declared he did not know the baskets contained tobacco until they were opened.

Asked by the Magistrate to explain why the junk was anchored off Apichau instead of on the Aberdeen side, the defendant said that they went there to discharge the sweet potatoes which were intended for sale at Apichau.

The Chief Preventive Officer said that the cigarettes were contained in six large baskets covered with matting. Leaves were arranged to make it appear that the baskets contained fruit but anyone feeling the top of the baskets could tell that they contained packages. The tobacco was contained in a large gunny bag. This bag smelt strongly of tobacco and there could be no excuse for not knowing what it contained. The duty payable on the lot was $86.96.

Discharging the second and third defendants, the Magistrate convicted the master of the junk and fined him $750 or four months' hard labour. The cigarettes and tobacco were confiscated.

MURDERERS' TRICK.

HEADS CUT OFF TO STOP VICTIMS BEING TRACED.

Paris criminals seem to have adopted very quickly the idea that a decapitated body is extremely difficult to identify. This was proved last year when the police searched for several months and failed to identify the headless body of a young woman which had been thrown into the Seine.

On several occasions since then criminals have resorted to this means when disposing of the body of their victim. The latest case is the body of a young girl believed to have been a professional dancer found in the river near Marnac, in the Cantal Department. The head is missing, and according to medical experts the murderer after killing the girl inflicted several slight razor cuts on the body. The body was crushed as though it had been forced into a trunk.

Inquiries throughout the region have so far failed to bring to light the disappearance of any girl, and it is thought that it will be a task of some difficulty to identify the body, which had probably been brought by motor car from some distant town.

DEAREST CITY.

OIL-WELL DRILLERS WHO EARN $100 A MONTH.

The most expensive city in the world, where $2 is paid for a meal without wine and $4 for a glass of milk, is Tampico, on the Pampas River, in East Mexico, according to a British business man who has just returned to Britain.

Whisky in Tampico is 2s. 6d. a thimbleful and a glass of lemonade costs 2s. A felt hat, such as can be bought in expensive London for 17s. 6d., costs more than three times this sum, while a single furnished room cannot be had for less than $5 a week.

Tampico is a modern town with many large buildings, three theatres, and a variety theatre, all built cheek by jowl with miserable little huts. The Mexicans in Tampico, he states, carry firearms and do not hesitate to use them. "I saw a man straggling with two others in the main street and all had revolvers drawn."

HOME TRADE.

MANCHESTER WEEKLY MARKET REPORT.

Messrs. James F. Hutton & Co., Ltd., Manchester, reported as follows on Wednesday, March 22:

Improvement in the Lancashire trade has again been the mainstay of the cotton markets; a good enquiry for spot cotton, with increased sales totalling about 10,000 bales daily, being the chief source of strength. The result has been a generally firm undertone with values gradually stiffening. An item of interest, although of no effect on values at present, has been the issue by the American Census Bureau of their final ginning return for the season. The return gives a total of 7,977,970 bales. This compares with 13,270,970 last year, 11,325,532 in 1920, and 11,906,460 in 1919. The present total is of course exceptionally low, owing to the reduced acreage planted, but with the large carry over of 9,194,000 bales from the previous season, ample supplies are ensured for the present season. Against these supplies, the International Federation report a known consumption of 5,803,626 bales up to January 31, the first half of the season. Adding the consumption at mills who have not sent in returns, the estimated total is about 6½ millions. For the whole season therefore, the consumption may be approximated at 12 million bales on the basis of the first six months trading, and more if it improves. It will be seen that with a 12 million bale consumption the carry over would be reduced by 4 million bales. There has again been more activity in the Manchester market. Quite a considerable volume of enquiry has been in evidence and a fair weight of business has resulted in sections, chiefly light and medium goods, some very substantial lines have been placed. The improvement is far from general but it has resulted in a steady hardening of yarn prices. Makers still find it difficult to improve their position owing to the number of idle looms, but the cheapest sellers are making sales which immediately lead to advances in their rates. India is the chief buyer, with sales comprising shirtings, sheetings and light white goods, principally. China has been a little better, and Singapore and Java have bought sundry small lots. Demand for the Continent and Home Trade has been fair.

Messrs. James F. Hutton & Co., Ltd., Manchester, reported as follows on Wednesday, March 29:

The American cotton markets have been weak owing to labour troubles and the prospect of a coal stoppage at the beginning of next month. These influences have naturally checked support and caused a downward movement in values. The Liverpool market has however shown much steadiness and the easing off of prices has only been very slight. The strength of Liverpool has again been the spot sales, which have averaged over 10,000 bales daily, and the continuance of a good enquiry for actual cotton. There is an entire absence of speculative interest in futures. The tone of the Manchester market continues more cheerful. There has been a good weight of enquiry and a very fair turnover has resulted. Spinners are firmer and yarn prices have advanced further; generally about ¼d. per lb. It is probably owing to this fact that business has become rather more difficult to arrange, as buyers do not readily pay advances on recent purchases. The wedding out of the cheapest sellers in the manufacturing section has also gone a step further. The question of another reduction of working costs is now engaging attention; the employers' federation having put forward a demand for a wage reduction throughout the industry. This has yet to be discussed, but it is generally expected that some reduction will take place. It will come into force about the middle of May, but the amount and its effect on prices are problematical. Needless to say it will not cause any substantial fall in any case. A great deal depends on what business comes forward in the near future. If this falls off, the reduction in costs will be reflected in quotations, but if the turnover continues on the present scale there is no doubt that its only effect would be to check any advance. Many manufacturers have in fact already taken into consideration the probability of some reduction where orders have been placed extending beyond the middle of May. India continues the most active outlet; the demand having extended to prints and dyed goods. Business for China in greys, whites, and fancies has improved. The New York, the Continent and South America have purchased as follows:

NOTICES.

LABOUR TROUBLES.

TEVEDORE'S DISPUTE SETTLED.

OTHERS PROCEEDING.

Quite a crop of industrial disputes is engaging the attention of the Secretary for Chinese Affairs (the Hon. Mr. P. R. Hillier) just now.

A long standing argument was settled yesterday when, at a final meeting between representatives of the parties concerned, it was agreed that the retarding of employment should get an increase of 21 1/2 per cent on the currency of present contracts. This is to date from April 1. The request of the Guild that it should be allowed to arrange contracts with the shipping people, the limit of the middlemen, was gone into very carefully and it was agreed that the men should be afforded opportunities of proving that this was a feasible proposition. At the meeting yesterday the Hong Kong General Chamber of Commerce representatives were Messrs. H. P. White and G. M. Young and Messrs. Chan Yiu Ting and Ip Lau Chen represented the Chinese Chamber.

Last February the carpenters were seeking an increase and they eventually agreed to accept the arbitration of the Rev. H. R. Wells. That gentleman investigated their claims very thoroughly and awarded them an increase of 25 per cent. Both parties were satisfied with this and the same increase was offered the employers to the section of the carpenters which corresponds practically to what we call joiners. They wanted more and the argument is still proceeding.

Negotiations are proceeding at the moment in connection with the demands presented by the dockmen and tally clerks, and those in touch with the position seem to think that they will be able to see daylight soon.

CANTON'S ARMY

EXPEDITION AGAINST THE NORTH.

SUN YAT SEN'S PLAN.

According to the Canton Times, after arranging the provincial affairs of Kwangtung, President Sun Yat-sen will soon lead his "grand expeditionary army" northward in order to hasten the unification of the country. It is reported that the Northern Expedition Army Headquarters will be removed to Shikwan on May 10 when President Sun and the main force of the Expeditionary Armies will proceed to that city. After concentrating in Shikwan, the general movement of the Northern Expedition will be ordered. The President has entrusted the affairs of Kwangtung to the newly appointed governor, Dr. Wu Ting-fang. General Ngai Hong-ping, Commander of the third Division, will be in charge of the military affairs of Canton city.

WITCH'S CURSE.

"Forbidden Valley," featuring May McAvoy and Robert Gordon at the World Theatre to-day, is said to be a mountain tale of fends and romance. The story is concerned with the last fight between two families who had been enemies for generations. There had been peace for fifteen years because all the Mitchells were dead except one, and he had gone from the valley.

Then a strange young man came. He fell in love with Glory Lee, at first sight and aroused the jealousy of Dave, who found evidence that led him to believe the stranger was the last Mitchell, come to the valley to fulfill the curse of the Mitchell "witch woman".

As the last of the Lees, taught to hate the Mitchells, Glory must be willing and ready to do a man's part to fight the feud to the end. Could she raise her gun against her lover? Could she risk the honour of the Lees above her great love?

ODDS AND ENDS.

MAINLY SCISSORS LOOT.

English Coinage.

The Australian public does not care for the new silver coinage which is being minted by the British Government. It is complained that with the reduced silver contents the coins do not ring so true as the older coins. Negotiations have now been opened between the Commonwealth Treasury and the Imperial Government for a further withdrawal of English silver coin in circulation in this country. Before the war the English coins were withdrawn to the extent of nearly 2100 000 per annum but owing to the supply of Australian coin being insufficient the withdrawals were restricted during the war.

Transfusion of Blood.

Members of the Midway Radical Club Stoke Newington intend to pay special honour to Mr. D. W. Tibble, a popular member, in recognition of his heroism in permitting transfusion of his blood to save lives of hospital patients. He is to receive a gold medal, bearing a suitable inscription, and will be elected a life member of the club. He has been ready on fifteen occasions to give his blood at the London, the London Temperance, and the Prince of Wales Hospitals. Actual transfusion of blood to patients was made on a dozen occasions, about sixteen pints of blood being taken and nine lives saved. Mr. Tibble was the means of saving the life of an American lady, which was followed by the gift of £20,000 to the London Hospital.

Photography's Centenary.

The argument concerning the centenary date of photography has been settled by the French people—who really ought to know, seeing that photography had its birth in France. They have decided that 1824 is the proper year, and are making arrangements to celebrate the event.

Photographs of a sort (copies of engravings made without a camera) were produced in 1822, but photographs of living persons were not made with a camera until 1839. It was somewhere between these two dates that a primitive form of camera appeared and photographs of simple and still objects were made, and our French friends have fixed upon 1824 as the year. Nevertheless 1839 will be looked upon by most people as the real birth year of photography, for it was then that the daguerreotype was invented.

Habsburg Jewels.

The case concerning the Habsburg family jewels pledged by the ex-Emperor Charles as security for a loan before his expedition into Hungary has been decided. The Emperor pledged them in the first place with a Bernese banker, trading under the name of Perlesco, but later made arrangements with the Geneva branch of another bank which paid off the loan and the interest due. Instead of handing over the jewels, however, the Bernese banker put in a claim for a further 160,000-franc commission on arrangements he alleged he had made for the sale of the jewels in accordance with a clause of his original agreement with the ex-Emperor, and got the jewels placed under sequestration. The Geneva bank then brought proceedings before the Supreme Court of Bern for the removal of the sequestration. The Court decided against the claim of the Perlesco firm, and condemned it to pay the whole costs of the action. An appeal may be made to the Federal Court. A dramatic development followed the verdict, the manager of the Bernese firm, whose name is Scutheimer, being arrested on a charge of swindling and malversation.

The Passport Nuisance.

Holland has been able of late to make arrangements with France, Belgium, Switzerland, and Luxemburg under which travellers of Dutch nationality will no longer have to obtain a visa from the authorities of these countries. Only the production of a passport is now necessary. These agreements are, of course reciprocal. Members of the Dutch First Chamber having inquired whether it would not be possible to suppress the passport visum altogether, the Minister for Foreign Affairs replied that he has been striving to attain this end. He mentioned, however, specifically that all the efforts of the Dutch Government to make with the British Government an arrangement similar to the one explained above had led to no result. It would be interesting to know the reasons invoked by the British authorities for their refusal to suppress the visum, between Great Britain and Holland. They have already made such an agreement with France and Belgium; why, therefore, should they raise obstacles against Holland? This attitude of the British Government is all the more surprising as relations between Great Britain and Holland have been extremely cordial of late years, whereas the relations between Holland and Belgium have been somewhat strained.

LORD RIDDELL TALKS.

AMUSING STORIES CONCERNING AMERICA.

Lord Riddell, who was the guest of the American Luncheon Club at a lunch at the Savoy Hotel, London, recently, said that association with America was very like drug-taking—it grew on one. Since he had been to America he had become a confirmed associate with Americans.
"I found America very entertaining," continued Lord Riddell, "and until I went there I never knew what a nice man I was. They said I was frank, witty, good-looking, and that I had a beautiful voice. (Laughter.) They paid me so many compliments that I began to think I had never been adequately appreciated in my own country or that I was the most inferior humbug. (Laughter.) One gentleman referred to me as Britain's modest violet. Another remarked that I was a good type of the old English aristocrat, and that my clothes hung upon me like the ivy on an old church tower. (Laughter.) Another gentleman said I had a rugged but good-natured face; and someone else remarked that, although a distinguished-looking person, I dressed like a third-rate chauffeur. That gave me a very good opportunity of sending a cablegram to my tailor saying, 'Serious comment on my clothes. Will you kindly place before your cashier.' (Laughter.)"

Lord Riddell went on to say that he had never seen abler men than those who represented America at the Washington Conference. They compared most favourably with the representatives of any nation in the world, and they were well fitted to be numbered among the great men of the world and the great men of history. From the time he landed to the time he left he received nothing but kindness and courtesy from everybody he came in contact with.

Lord Riddell paid a high tribute to the work of the American newspaper men, and said that it was untrue that they were adventurous people who didn't care what they wrote so long as it was interesting. The men whom he met possessed an absolute obsession for accuracy and rang him up all hours of the day and night in order to "check their references." (Laughter.)

Lord Riddell said that America was governed by Anglo-Saxons—English, Irish, mostly Scotch and Welsh, and the ideals of America were Anglo-Saxon ideals. America had lately changed her policy. Hitherto the American Government had been fully devoted to home affairs, but to-day America was seeking for foreign markets and that was the real reason why she was so interested in China. America was full of Chinese students, and arrangements were being made for American students to go to China. America saw, very wisely, that China would be a good outlet for her goods. This change in her policy was of world-wide importance. He had been asked repeatedly whether the future relations of Great Britain and America were to be of a friendly character and his answer was in the affirmative.

BOMBARDMENT BY TELEGRAM.

CHANG TSO-LIN AND WU PEI-FU EXPLAIN THEIR POSITIONS:—CHANG'S RE-UNIFICATION SCHEME;
WU PEI-FU NOT FIGHTING
UNLESS ATTACKED.

WU'S DENUNCIATION OF LIANG
SHIH-YI'S BOBROWING.

General Chang Tso-lin, in an open telegram which has just reached Shanghai, states in part:—

"The republic has been established for 10 years but China has been divided for a long time and there are troubles every year. The country has been divided into sections by certain political parties who are out for their own benefit and who work under the cloak of acting in accordance with the law. Militarists treat the places which they govern as their own personal property.

"China was the centre of interest during and immediately following the Washington Conference. Should we continue to fight among ourselves, foreigners will treat us as a laughingstock. I, therefore, am extremely saddened on this account. I, who have been a militarist for more than half of my whole lifetime, have suffered much and have undergone many troubles, but when I look at China to-day my agony is by far bitterer than ever before.

"Being afraid that China, like an aged house, will tumble to pieces if no renovation is made, and realizing how unhappy the people are, I have resolved to clear away all obstacles to re-unification of the country by leading my troops into Peking as the first step towards setting our house in order. I hope thus to use military force to bring about national unity.

"If there are any persons who unite to injure the country and harm the people, if there are any who break the laws of our country and who rob the people by commandeering their money and property, we shall treat such as obstacles in the way to national unity for not only I, but the citizens of China will rise and drive them away. Most people, I am sure, will agree with me.

GOD KNOWS MY HEART.

"Apropos of national unification:
I have no plans to make. I have nothing to say in this regard, for I leave it to the elders, the upright and the patriotic citizens of the country to decide how and when the conference shall be called and how the laws shall be fixed.

"I am not supporting any single person, nor am I supporting any political party, neither am I a member of any political party or an enemy to any individual, for God knows what is in my heart, but I am an enemy to the enemies of my country."

WU PEI-FU'S REPLY.

General Wu Pei-fu, in an open telegram received in Shanghai, states:
"Ever since the days of old, there has been a saying in China that if there is warfare, it is very dangerous.
Now many will ask why I do not act in accordance with this teaching.
"I have attacked Liang Shih-yi (the Peking Premier) because he is a danger to the republic and because he is a traitor, selling our national rights to foreigners.

"Apropos of the Fengtien army, I have already made a statement.
Everybody knows that I have given way much to General Chang Tso-lin.
Our Chihli troops have up to the present not been moved a single foot, but the Fengtien armies have been continuously passing south of Shanhai-kuan and are becoming a menace to us. Who is in the right and who is for peace, the people themselves can see.

CHIHLI SEES NO WAR.

"Many telegrams have been received during the past few days urging us not to resort to arms but to maintain peace. But if the Fengtien troops refrain from coming south, how

MYSTERY OF MARS.

PLANET DRAWING NEARER
TO THE EARTH.

Dr. A. C. Crommelin, Assistant at the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, writes:—

Mars is already visible as a morning star and will steadily draw nearer to the earth till the middle of June, when it will be closer than it has been since 1909.

Unfortunately this proximity will be offset for English observers by its being so far south that it will be only 12 degrees above the southern horizon.
Serious work must be left to more southern observers, among whom Prof. W. H. Pickering may be mentioned; he has mounted a powerful telescope at Mandeville, Jamaica, especially for planetary and lunar work.

From recent observations it is evident that Mars, like the earth, has warm and cold years, for the polar snow-caps sometimes melt to a greater extent than in other years.
It is inferred that the supply of water on the planet is scanty. It is likely that warm and cold seasons on Mars are more closely related to variations in the sun's output of heat than is the case on earth.

Besides the white polar caps the other surface features are the large dark regions formerly considered to be oceans, but now considered by many people to be tracts covered with vegetation. Observers are agreed that the large orange-tinted regions, which give the planet its characteristic ruddy colour, are sandy deserts, similar to our Sahara but covering a very large portion of the planet's surface. These are crossed by the intricate series of dark streaks generally known as "canals," though the term "canals" is really more appropriate.

The nights on Mars must be intensely cold, owing to the thinness and clearness of the air.

Can there be war? The Fengtien headquarters in Peking should be abolished, and the people should demand this.

"In connection with the peace and safety of the Capital, (which excuse the Fengtien army gives for its presence there) the police and the public organizations can maintain such without the interference or the assistance of Fengtien. Therefore, if each military commander will hereafter control and guard his own jurisdiction, act in accordance with the orders of the Central Government and maintain a peaceful attitude, it is unlikely that our Chihli troops will travel to the north of Shanhai-kuan and fight.

"If we can no longer maintain patience and if there is nothing else for us to do, then of course it will be necessary for us to protect ourselves.
And then who will be responsible for warfare if it breaks out? You will all know and you can answer yourselves.

MILLIONS OF DENTS AND YET MORE.

"China's troubles of to-day date back to the time when Yuan Shihkai attempted to make himself monarch. And who was his chief supporter? Liang Shih-yi. Loans have constantly been contracted and to-day they amount to thousands of millions of dollars. The people of the country cannot pay back these debts, and their sons and grandsons will have to be responsible for their repayment. But Liang still thinks there is not enough debt, and Chang Tso-lin is still supporting this robber (traitor) who is injuring the country and the people and selling by auction the last rights of the Chinese people.

"These two now are trying to use military force to make the people bend their knees to them. When we look into their actions, we shall find at the bottom of their hearts, they are only working for their own selfish interests."—N. C. Daily News.

INSECT MARVELS.

ANTS THAT CAN KILL GIANT ANIMALS.

Remarkable stories of ants are told by Mr. William Beebe in his new book, "The Edge of the Jungle" (just published, Witherby, 12s. 6d. net).

Mr. Beebe is not only an accomplished writer; he is also famous as a zoologist; and his observations were made at the Tropical Research Station maintained by the New York Zoological Society in British Guiana, so that he speaks with no little authority.

The best things in a really admirable study of wild life in the tropics are the accounts of ant communities, watched through a strong glass—societies which keep houseants to "tidy up," and mason ants to rub the fighters' tired muscles.
The fiercest and most dangerous are the army ants in their great battalions.

No creature in the world could stay in the path of this horde and live. To kill an insect or a great bird would require only a few minutes, and the death of a jaguar or a tapir would mean only a few more. I could not help thinking of the certain, inexorable fate of a man who, unable to move from his hammock or to make any attack, would be exposed to their attack. There could be no help for him if but one of this great host should scent him out and carry the word back to the rank and file.

SURGICAL ANTS.

Most highly organised are the anteants, or leaf-cutters, who, it appears, can do pretty nearly everything except vote.

Ants are such unpalatable creatures that they are singularly free from dangers. The army ants occasionally make use of their trails when they are deserted, but when the two great races of ants meet each antennae the ants of the other and turns respectfully aside.

With elaborate precautions one of the ants nests was opened up, and proved to contain a great artificial fungus bed for the special kind of whisk mushroom growth cultivated by the ants.

The leaves (which they cut and carry into the nest) are chewed thoroughly and built up into the spongy ardens, being used neither for thatch nor for food, but as fertilizer.
The spores sprout and proliferate rapidly, and at the end of each thread is a little knobbed body filled with liquid. This forms the sole food of the ants in the nest. The fungus is quite unknown outside the nests of these ants, and is as artificial as a banana.

Mr. Beebe avers that the "mechanical, vice-like grip" of the jaws of the fighters among these ants is used by the Indians in surgery.

In place of stitching up extensive wounds, a number of these giant ants are collected, and their jaws applied to the edges of the skin, which are drawn together. The ants take hold, their bodies are snapped off, and the row of jaws remains until the wound is healed.

Of the ways of the vampire bat he gives a reassuring account:

Great bats as large as small herons swept down the long gallery where we worked; but the vampires were long in coming, and for months we neither saw nor heard of one. They attacked our servants and we took heart and night after night exposed our toes as conventionally accepted vampire bait. With a soft little tap a vampire alighted on my chest.

It was seized as it began to bite, but it did no more harm than barely to break the skin, though this was because it was interrupted in its operation of blood-sucking.

THE economy of the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX is based on fact, not theory. The above average obtained under a variety of conditions—on dirt roads, over mountainous trails and through crowded city streets—is concrete evidence of its low petrol consumption.

The unusual economy of the LIGHT-SIX is due to its light, evenly-balanced chassis, and its patented Internal Hot-Spot, which is an exclusive Studebaker feature.
